The Headfire Revolution is a Dual Colour headtorch.

5 High quality super-bright white LEDs provide an intense beam that is visible from up to 2000 metres away.

There is a single Red LED which provides a less harsh light, suitable for close in work where the white would dazzle and cause glare.

Switches on the front of the unit allow either mode or both together.

The front housing contains the LEDs and can be tilted to direct the light to where it is needed most.

The batteries are housing is at the rear, improving balance and also features a slider to adjust the brightness of the unit.
